THE SOUTHERN NEVADA CHAPTER of the INTERNATIONAL CODE COUNCIL works hand in hand with industry and the public to develop and implement programs designed to enhance the professionalism of our members and code officials everywhere. Our members participate in local, state, regional and national activities to increase public awareness of safety in the built environment.

The chapter provides education, training and support to its members, assists in assuring uniformity in code enforcement and code administration and is dedicated to the protection of property and public safety.

Toddler Swim Lessons Grant Program
Be Our Partner

SN-ICC implemented its Toddler Swim Lessons Grant Program in 2009 to reduce the occurrence of fatal and near-fatal child drownings in Southern Nevada. SN-ICC donates $10,500 annually, with $1500 grants provided to each of Southern Nevada's seven jurisdictions. With this grant, the parks and recreation department from each jurisdiction provides a program for toddlers and their parents to obtain free swimming lessons and water safety instruction. A minimum of 400 children age 4 years or younger, in addition to their parents, receive this valuable training each year. With your assistance, even more children can participate in this life saving program.

100% of all donations go directly toward helping kids learn to swim.

The most common drowning victim is a child 4-years-old or younger.

The majority of drownings occur in residential swimming pools, hot tubs and spas.

The average child victim was last seen in the house and was left unsupervised for about 15 minutes.

Isolation fencing around pools can help prevent drownings.

Drowning is a leading cause of accidental drowning in Southern Nevada.

Approximately 8 children drown in Southern Nevada each year.

The SN-ICC believes pool barriers, as outlined in the Southern Nevada Pool Code, provide the best protection in preventing children from drowning in backyard pools and spas.

However, the pool code was not written to include stringent barrier requirements until 2003. The majority of Southern Nevada’s 100,000+ pools were built prior to the implementation of the 2003 code.

Help us teach children to swim to prevent the tragedy of yet another near or fatal drowning.

Pool barriers such as fences, self-latching and closing gates and door alarms help isolate the pool/spa area and protect young children from accessing the water without an adult present.

The Southern Nevada Pool Code provides more details on pool barrier requirements. Contact your local building department for a copy of the pool code.
